

Welcome!

Exciting! I'm finally putting this website out into the world. It's been a long road, starting this project in Critical Digital Literacy in my Digital Humanities class with Luke Waltzer and continuing to finish it as my capstone. I'm grateful to everyone who has helped me along the way! Including Shawna Brandle, my advisor, who was a great support and help to me. Luke Waltzer, who gave the assignment for a Critical AI Literacy syllabus-imagine this started as a syllabus-and my friends and family, who were a great source of belief and support.

I hope that all who see this site find it helpful! I intend it to be a living document that changes and grows as the field evolves. I've left comments on whether you want to give feedback, add something, or make corrections. I look forward to your comments.

Thanks for stopping by! I look forward to working with you in the future.
